The Chairman invited shareholders to ask questions and express their opinions. Shareholders asked questions and expressed their recommendations while the Board of Directors and the management answered them with the summarized details as follows:

1. Ms. Suwannee Chiansirikraiwt

- (1) Who else are shareholders of Shanxi Luguang Power Plant in which BPP holds 30% of its shares?
 - Dr. Kirana Limpaphayom answered that Gemeng, which was the largest power company in Shanxi Province, held 35% of its shares while the other 35% was held by Lu'an.
- (2) Who else is a shareholder of the Zouping Power Plant in which BPP holds 70% of its shares?
 - Dr. Kirana Limpaphayom answered that Xiwang Group, a large food and sugar company who was also involved in electricity and steam, held the other 30%.
- (3) What is a regular maintenance schedule of the Hongsa Power Plant? After 2019 when it encountered a major earthquake, will the power plant be able to generate power as planned in 2020?
 - Dr. Kirana Limpaphayom explained that following the 2019 earthquake, the Hongsa Power Plant suspended its operation to check for damage. That's also when it stopped distributing its power. The management therefore moved up a major overhaul, which would have been taken place in mid 2020, in order to maintain the power plant's Equivalent Available Factor (EAF) in 2020. In the long run, the Hongsa Power Plant will be subject to an annual maintenance schedule once a year and a major overhaul every three, five and seven years alternately.
- (4) To what extent did the Covid-19 pandemic during the first half of 2020 delay both BPP's domestic and overseas projects? In addition, will fewer activities (due to the outbreak) reduce demands for electricity? Which project does BPP plan to delay its investment?

- Dr. Kirana Limpaphayom answered that at present, projects currently under construction faced a similar challenge, which was construction management and the issue of suppliers. BPP had invested in various countries, each of which was different in terms of public policy, transportation or others. BPP could be affected from the Covid-19 pandemic in the sense that it could delay our projects currently under construction. However, we affirmed that the COD (Commercial Operation Date) would remain the same as already communicated to shareholders. Regarding new projects, BPP perceived that it was our opportunity to invest in them because falling demands for electricity also meant that all prices relating to the power plant construction tended to fall.

(5) What are the indicators of your analysis regarding employees' commitment to the organization? What use or benefit will the management get from these indicators to improve organization management?

- Dr. Kirana Limpaphayom answered that employees' level of commitment to the organization was derived from an engagement survey conducted by the third party where BPP's employees in every country in which we operated were asked a standard set of questions involving various matters including corporate culture. Employees expressed opinions about BPP's operation relating to internal communication, welfare, career path and the management's decision-making process. The survey was an attempt to listen to employees' opinions so that we could improve our business and HR operation. Survey results were also benchmarked with those from the same industry on the basis of international standards.

2. Mr. Min Thianworn

(1) Could you assess your impact from Covid-19 pandemic and give us a projection for your 2020 operation as to whether it will increase or decline from the 2019's operation.

- Dr Kirana Limpaphayom answered that the Covid-19 outbreak showed increasing demands for electricity in the household sector while industrial demand fell. However, the use of power in the industrial sector would depend on economic conditions, which was now quite unclear as to how and in which direction the economy would recover. As for the business we have already invested in, in countries where we had long-term power purchase agreements, BPP continued to maintain our capacity to generate electricity to honor the agreements. In countries where electricity was freely traded, although there was uncertainty with regard to demands for electricity, yet, in the case of Japan, for example, there was an energy trading business that BPP felt offering us an opportunity to make profit. One thing that we could also do was to control costs and eliminate unnecessary expenses, something which we felt extremely important.

The Chairman invited the shareholders to ask questions and express their additional opinions. No questions being raised.

The Chairman, then, requested the Meeting to acknowledge the Board of Directors' Annual Report for the Company's performance and approved the audited Statements of Financial Position and Statement of Income for the year ended on 31 December 2019.

However, the 2020 AGM has been postponed due to the situation of the 2019 Coronavirus Disease Outbreak, the Board of Director Meeting No. 5/2020 on April 8, 2020 has resolved to pay interim dividend instead of annual dividend payment to reduce any impacts that may arise to the shareholders. The Board approved the payment of interim dividend for the Company performance of the year 2019 according to the audited financial statements ending December 31, 2019, based on the net profits of the Company at the rate of 0.30 Baht per share, payable from the corporate income tax – exempted profit on which shareholders are not entitled to tax credits. The dividend payment is scheduled to be on April 28, 2020.

Together with the interim dividend declaration for the first half of 2019 at the rate of 0.35 Baht per share, according to the resolution of the Board of Director Meeting No. 8/2019 on August 30, 2019 of which the payment date was scheduled on September 25, 2019, therefore, the total interim dividend payments from 2019 operating results are 0.65 Baht per share, which is considered to be the declaration of dividend at the rate of 67 percent of the Company’s net profits, which is comply with the dividend policy of the Company.

Therefore, this Shareholder Meeting is proposed to approve the appropriation of annual profits and to acknowledge the interim dividend payment as recommended by the Board.
